BRAZILIAN, BOOKS & THE BROAD THURSDAY, MAY 23, 2019

This new tour pairs two of downtown L.A.'s newest destinations – featuring eclectic art and an elegant lunch – a true feast for your eyes and your belly!

The Broad, downtown L.A.'s $140 million contemporary art museum financed by billionaire philanthropists and art collectors Eli and Edythe Broad is the repository for some of the most expensive artwork on the planet. With only 250 pieces on display at any one time, each visit here presents new opportunities to debate and appreciate. Enjoy approximately 90 minutes at leisure to explore on a self-guided visit with a VIP (no waiting) entrance.

This afternoon we enjoy an included lunch at the Brazilian Fogo de Chão. The Brazilian steakhouse tradition begins at the Market Table where you can return as many times as you like for fresh seasonal salads, exotic vegetables, imported cheeses, cured meats, seasonal soup and more. Once you're seated, the authentic Brazilian side dishes arrive and by setting your dining card to green, you'll receive continuous tableside service of signature cuts of meat, fire-roasted and served by the gaucho chefs. The variety of meats include top and bottom sirloin, chicken and the slow roasted pork sausage. In Brazilian culture, this is all part of the grilled-meat feasts where they honor gaucho tradition, one carved slice at a time. Be sure to leave room for dessert – family-style platters with bite size treats!

Enjoy time at leisure at the Last Bookstore, the iconic L.A. bookstore housed in the grand atrium of what was once a bank. The bookstore specializes in reasonably priced used books, and takes pride in its selection of well-kept vintage books as well. Anyone who has ever loved a vintage book will know exactly what that means for the musty, decadent smell that hangs in the air in this seemingly sacred place. There is a section of hardbacks arranged by color. Most of the fiction is purposefully unarranged, meant to inspire treasure hunts among shoppers. In short, every inch of the place is designed to make book lovers fall in love with it, and it succeeds!
